

Mind-the-Gap launches emerging tech offerings as an Authorised Training Partner with

CERTNEXUS®

26 AUGUST 2024

The African business landscape is rapidly evolving, and its future world of work is a dynamic one that presents a unique blend of challenges and opportunities. Mind-the-Gap recognises this and aims to bridge the digital skills gap with launching tech training by offering CertNexus® emerging technology credentials and certifications alongside their renowned management, entrepreneur and leadership programmes.

CertNexus® is a vendor-neutral certification body and their future forward certifications contribute to closing the emerging tech global skills gap while providing individuals with a path towards rewarding emerging tech careers and vetted, trusted credentialing. All CertNexus® certifications are aligned to ANAB ISO/IEC 17024 standards and are globally recognised.

It's great news to officially launch our status as an authorised training partner with CertNexus®! So now we can qualify future business professionals, tech workers and leaders in emerging technologies amongst others including:

- Artificial Intelligence (AI),
- Cyber Security,
- Data Science,
- Data Ethics and
- Internet of Things.

To meet the needs of future world of work and Africa's future leaders, managers and entrepreneurs that are innovative and embracing tech in their roles, CertNexus® certifications are the only choice for our learners to achieve this as part of their future focused life long learning journeys.
